The Duke d'Ossuna, whose death was lately reported in the Spanish papers was one of the wealthiest men in Europe. His annual income has been estimated at $1,200,000.

The late Duke was also one of the most liberally titled nobles in Spain.

The Washington National Republic is authority for the statement that the Republicans will make the experiment of sending some first class Northern stump speaking talent down to Tennessee to try the effect of their method upon the people of this State. Hon. E. B. Taylor, of Ohio, is one of the speakers said to be chosen for this work.

The death of Miss Fanny Parnell, sister of the great agitator for Irish freedom, is a great loss to the friends of that unfortunate country. Her writings, both in prose and verse, did much to enlist public sympathy for the cause of Ireland, while her every energy was devoted to bringing about the success of the land movement in that oppressed land.
